Creating Actionable Stratetic Communications and Data Analysis Products for Senior Managers

Project Title	Creating Actionable Stratetic Communications and Data Analysis Products for Senior Managers
Project Summary	Using data create products that cultivate improved decision making for senior managers regarding expediency of misconduct cases. Using creativity to make actionable products is the goal.
Country	United States

Project Description

The project has two genres of work. Inward and outward facing. We want internal office supervisors to have access to easily understandable products to make more efficient workflows. Additionally, outreach to other department offices using actionable, creative, and innovative strategic communications is an important goal. Conducting data review of office wide casework, creating easily digestible functional graphs, dashboards, and creative products are examples of products that could be created.

Ideally this placement will provide opportunities above the scope of a general internship..

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Data analysis
Infographic design
Research

Additional Information

This office is unique in that many staff members are DETOs (Deployed Employee Teleworking Overseas). A placement in this office will provide daily interaction with seasoned foreign service and civil service staff.

Working in this office is a great opportunity to build rapport with a diverse group of staff members.

Language Requirements

None